Success in any career today demands flexibility based in three skill areas: the ability to think critically, the ability to analyze information from a variety of sources and apply that analysis to solving problems, and the ability to communicate that analysis to others. These skills are particularly critical for careers in law, government, business, teaching and medicine, as well as for success in graduate or professional school.

> A Tailored Program

Founded solidly in the tradition of liberal arts, the department of History at East Central University emphasizes developing these skills. Each History major may, with the help of faculty, tailor a program to best match individual career and intellectual interests. The department offers degrees in History and History (Teacher Certification).

DEPARTMENT OF HISTORY

> DEGREE OPTIONS

History

History offers students the richness of past experience to comprehend more lucidly humanity's progress and setbacks, great accomplishments and tragic failures.

Historical study teaches judgment, examines values, and explores issues and events; it uncovers the sources of creativity and stagnation during the entire course of civilization's evolution. The significance of the past and its meaning for the possibilities of the present and future become a powerful tool of analysis and interpretation.

The History program offers a wide-range of courses in United States History, European History, and World History.

History Teacher Certification

A teaching degree creates the foundation for pursuing a long-term career in teaching History and Social Studies at different levels of schooling. After obtaining teacher certification, many graduates of teaching degree programs can pursue a career in preschools, middle schools, high schools, colleges or universities. Advanced teaching degrees enable students to pursue research and education at even higher levels such as PhD and graduate programs.

To prepare students for tomorrow's world through a dynamic & diverse learning experience.
